“ This made me think of you and your passion for your flowers and your garden. I still think I am going to see you smiling face as I turn a corner - things aren't going to be the same. I love you my friend and am certainly going to miss you.

“ Helen, you are one of the most genuine human beings I've ever known. I love you dearly. We always had a bond from the first time we met. I will miss you terribly, but will see you in eternity. I'm praying for your family who are left behind missing their most precious one....

“ Wayyyy to many thoughts memories and good times to post. My heart is completely broken. Was so counting on spending our golden years together once my life settled down. I'm so grateful we had talked recently and sad we never got to fulfill our trip to Maui together. I will think of you each and every time I'm there and will talk to you every time I'm there. I ALWAYS considered you family ever since we were kids. I still have the gaurdian angel you gave me and will cherish it for ever. You will always be my angel

“ Helen...I miss you more each day my dearest friend, life will never be the same without you. If I could have one wish, I would wish for yesterday with you singing some random crazy song to me, of course no one else could hear but, you knew it would stick in my brain for hours until I'd call you and say "I owe you one." Love you always, until we meet again.

“ I remember a few years ago Helen was offering rhubarb from her garden, so I took her up on it and went over to her house to get it. She took me through her beautiful garden and before I knew it I not only had bunches of rhubarb, I had all kinds of goodies to take home, including fish and sausage from the freezer! She was a very nice and generous person. Rest in Peace Helen.

“ My sincere condolences to family & friends. I did not know her well...I knew her Dad, Joe DeArmond...he was entwined in our family through my Mom, Delores Smith Cox. I remember meeting Helen years ago.
