“ I met Brad many years ago through the Lake Chelan Mirror when I interviewed him for a special farming publication. He was personable and passionate about his profession. He explained his life as an orchardist matter-of-factly and humbly. If I had a question about agriculture I was comfortable calling him and he always answered politely. I lost touch with him when I changed careers, then about a year ago, I saw him. He had lost so much weight. He explained what was going on with his health with acceptance and peace. We wished each other well. I will hold a special place in my heart for him. My deepest condolences to his family and friends.
