

Brenda Brady

July 7, 1946 - December 17, 2023

Brenda Hicks Brady, 77, passed away peacefully on Sunday, December 17, 2024, after a brief battle with cancer. She was born July 7, 1946, in Macon, GA, moved to Huntington Beach, CA, then to Okanogan, WA, and finally settled in Pateros, WA. In 1982, she met George Brady, and they wed on February 13, 1993.

Brenda had an amazing zest for life and was never afraid of a new challenge or adventure. She was a master gardener, a master quilter, a member of Daughters of the Revolution (DAR), and had a passion for genealogy. She loved cooking, sewing, pink flamingos, bluegrass music, and having backyard parties filled with laughter and celebration. She turned strangers into friends, and friends into family!

Brenda loved to travel, always seeking out new experiences and new adventures. She often drove across the US to visit family and research her historical projects. She also traveled the world to places like Germany and throughout Europe, the United Kingdom, Prague, and Iceland.

She is survived by her daughters: Sheri and Julie; step-son Dan; as well as her son-in-law Frank; daughter-in-law Aera; and granddaughter, Madeline. She was predeceased by her husband, who sadly passed away six months before her.

Brenda will be deeply missed by friends, family, and all who knew her. She will be cremated, and her ashes buried near her parents at Glen Haven Cemetery in Macon. A memorial is planned during Pateros' Arbor Day, Friday, April 26,
