“ Another piece of my childhood is gone. I grew up with this family and through it all George was a true diamond in the rough. It was always a bright spot when I'd run into George on my visits back to Brewster; he always made me laugh and usually walked away with a parting ... “ You Girls!”
My heart is happier that I knew George and it hurts for those he's left ...
My love to you all!

“ Tom and I knew George as "The Chard Man" from the Methow Valley Farmers Market in Twisp, where we sold vegetables including chard, which George purchased faithfully from us each week! We also regularly encountered George and Sandy around and about at all variety of musical and social events up here in Twisp. He and Sandy were indeed always such a pleasure to encounter. We will remember George as being full of goodwill, optimism and courtesy. We shall miss him dearly. Our heartfelt condolences go to Sandy and the family. Sue Koptonak and Tom Doran, Twisp.

“ George & Sandy have been some of my longest-term and treasured clients since the late '90's. The relationship evolved from a business one into becoming very dear friends of mine. We met every couple of months or so, and always tried to incorporate lunch into our meetings. George & I usually deviated into political topics, but fortunately Sandy would do her best to steer us back to business. I will greatly miss George's friendship and sense of humor. My thoughts & prayers for Sandy and the entire family. Rick Deich

“ George and Sandy were some of the most pleasant customers I dealt with at Hamilton Farm Equipment. It was a bright spot in the day when they came by my office for some advice or to something repaired or even just to say hi when they were in the store for some other reason. It was customers like George that made you want to come to work everyday. My condolences to Sandy for her loss.
