Following graduation, Erin worked for the United States Forest Service as a seasonal firefighter working out of the Chelan Ranger District on an initial attack fire truck.

In 2015 Erin moved to Wenatchee where on her first night there, she met her husband to be, Isaiah Clifton. They spent their time hiking, traveling and spending time together with family or friends. They were always discussing their next adventures.

Erin worked several different career choices during her time in Wenatchee including as a CNA at Mountain Meadows Senior Living, for a private in-home care facility and working for Elmview Disability Services. Erin even worked as a private nanny.

They continued with their traveling and business ventures and were always making plans for their future. Part of that future was to be parents. Later, they shared their planned parental futures with their families in December of 2017 when they announced they were pregnant with their first child.

On September 08, 2018 Erin gave birth to their daughter, Gwenevere Lily Clifton. Erin's love for her daughter was like no other. Erin was very proud of her little bundle of love.
