

Kathryn Ann Conaway

July 15, 1943 - May 29, 2016

Kathryn “Kathy” A. Conaway went to her eternal reward on May 29, 2016. In the past few years she fought a battle of life and won. She died peacefully at home.

She was born July 15, 1943 at Mountain Home, Arkansas. She was married to Dean Conaway on her birthday so Dean had only one date to remember. She met Dean when she worked at Blair Pontiac. Other jobs held were J.C. Penney’s, apple packing, and Lakeview Drive-In, all in Chelan. Right out of high school she attended Kinman Business College in Spokane.

Activities she enjoyed most were Chelan Christian Church, Chelan Rustlers, Saddle Club, bowling league, Washington State Horseman’s Association, and the Fjord Horse group. Her greatest enjoyment was her children, grandchildren, and horses.

Kathy was preceded in death by her parents, Bynum and Dorothy Swearingen. Survivors include her husband Dean Conaway of the home in Chelan, daughter Cindy (Charles) DeWoody of Ellensburg, and son Kiley (Nicole) Conaway of Ellensburg. Grandchildren include Willie (Hanna) Yager, and Hailey, Macie, Spencer, and Fletcher Conaway. Also surviving is her twin brother Charles (Carol) Swearingen of Prosser, WA..

“ There are so many memories that come to mind of my Dear Friend Kathy. She was one of the kindest, most patient people I have ever met. I don't know if she even knew how to be upset. We spent many hours logging miles traveling with or on our horses. I loved how she would say , Lord willing and the creek don't rise. This one memory that I have repeated so many times over the years is probably only funny to me but... (please try hard to picture this)..... one late afternoon coming into the barn after hours of up and down hills, seeing a rattlesnake, dodging holes that could break a leg, a thunder storm began with its' first big BOOM. Kathy jumps off her horse drops the reins and runs to hide under a flatbed trailer next to the tire. Leaving me and two horse out in the open field. when I finally caught up and said what the heck, she replied as sweet as ever but I bit frazzled for her and with that giggle, " I don't want to be struck by lightening" sorry I left you, thanks for bringing my horse. Heaven has welcomed a New ANGEL.

Kathy do they have Camels in Heaven? (another story that we both still laughed so hard at this past fall when we visited at the Fair)
