“ So very saddened at my brother-in-laws' passing. He was just a great guy. Honest, hardworking, and so very caring about his family, and everything he did. He was an easy person to love, and I did. I will miss you, Bob, it shouldn't have ended this way.

“Bob was my cousin. When I was a little girl, I spent a couple weeks at a time in Seattle at my Aunt Mary’s and Uncle Chuck’s home. I have great memories of those days with Bob and Chuck. Later, we spent time at Lake St. Clare with our families. Bob has been on the other side of the mountains with his own family and we haven’t been together often, but we think about the Serafini family all the time. Hugs to everyone...Robert, Steven and Michael and especially Kari.

From Sandy Mazzei-Remembering Bob-It was easy to remember Bob's birthday because April 1st was also my father's birthday, Bob's grandfather, Pete Mazzei. We had many good times together as he was growing up, especially at Lake St. Clair, where Bob found joy swimming, trying to water ski for the first time, Canasta games in the old trailer before their home was built, car trips for milkshakes on hot days; then visits when his own children were growing up. Later, Bob's reputation as an outstanding electrical contractor was well known by builders who asked for him to do the wiring on their jobs. I remember the work he did for me when we bought a house...he was so good. We really missed him when they moved to Manson because we lost direct contact. From then on it was by cards or email. The last time I saw him in person was when Billie and I decided to drive to Manson from Olympia and Tacoma for an in-person visit. He will be missed by the entire Chelan community where he was so actively involved. I have been so proud of his successes that I have a hard time believing he is gone. God rest his soul.
