“ My name is Elena J and I met Wayne when I was a very young kid. I think i was 6 but could have been before that. I loved and looked foward to mom waking me when it was dark out, early mornens riding passenger in the semi when he did runs! Being outdoors looking out that big semi window and the bbq burritos from the gas stations, skittles and bluegrass gospel music and laughs and chats in the truck was fun! I was 6,7 and 8. He was my favorite growing up! Whenever he pulled into our driveway to see us all, I was excited!!!! He always had our favorite candy bars and gave us each a buck to spend at the store!! He was there for us kids often and I now am older and appreciate the time he spent of his own time to be there for us all when he was. Time riding on the back of his motorcycle was the thrill of day! That comfortable leather seat we sat on and the thought of how kind he was to give us rides bring happiness! We looked foward to Wayne coming over!! He would come over and us kids n mom n Wayne would be singing gospel songs. Wayne also was teaching my brother age 7 at the time and I 6. how to play the guitar and he played on the stage at Carls church with the other musicians from time to time. Every sunday was church at Carls and all the others. Lots of memories with Wayne as he was there throughout my entire childhood until i was 16. He was fun and never ignored us kids. Wayne Built us a huge snow mt in the yard to slide down and also would play in the snow with us all. Ya he was in his 50s back then and 60s. Years went by we all moved away and i hadnt seen him until about 5 years ago now when i had seen him at walmart in wenatchee and i was shocked! I hadnt seen him since i was like 16 and here i was 33 years old and he..... well his colored hair was all gone and hardly recognized him!! Ha! What time does to us all! We chatted briefly and hed been on my mind ever since. Didnt know how to get ahold of him so id ask around but didnt get far. I was looking through obituaries today and seen his name...sad. i wish i had connections to had been able to see him once more to share stories and make visits. Im thankful he was in our lives. He was there for us always and have been missing him. To all that knew Wayne, just know that what we knew him for who he was is a love and memory that will always be. We have to keep moving foward and know that, Wayne wouldn't want any of us to be sad or angry of his passing. He would want us to keep living and be happy and to keep moving foward in life. For him, stay strong and dont be sad. He wouldn't want anyone sad or upset. Im very grateful to have had him in our lives.

“ My Great Uncle was an amazing man. He was a rough and tumble cowboy but gentle soul. He loves to sing and listen to country gospel music and he loved his family. He will be greatly missed.
